

Looking to the Future

What a powerful Easter celebration we shared together this past Sunday morning! The presence of the resurrected Christ was certainly with us as we worshiped together outdoors and indoors, with inspiring Scripture, beautiful music, warm hospitality, the energy of people of all ages, and new life showing up in so many ways.

I'm looking forward to gathering again with many of you this evening as I share "An Evening with the Pastor" vision talk. My talk begins at 6:30pm, with a dinner being served from 5:30-6:30. All of this will take place in the Fellowship Hall.

In a nutshell, I want to talk with you about three basic decisions I believe we need to make. One of them is something I would tell any congregation nowadays. Another is something I would only share with congregations similar to ours. And the last is something very specific for our own congregation at this point in our history. I hope to see you then.

"You didn't choose me, but I chose you and appointed you so that you could go and produce fruit and so that your fruit could last".

(John 15:16, Common English Bible)

Easter Blessings!
