

Risk-Taking Love

"Do unto others as you would have them do to you." (Luke 6:31)

Christians are called to love those for whom it is not automatic or easy to love. Jesus stepped across oppressive social boundaries. He spent time with those suffering crippling infirmities and social stigma, and offered hope to those at the point of grave despair. He loved the least lovable and the most vulnerable, and he offered the same unmerited grace to the greatest sinner as to the finest saint. And Christ invites his disciples to follow him into this kind of risk-taking love.

In worship this Sunday morning, we will talk about the fruitful practice of Risk-Taking Mission and Service. What a positive example we have of this in the work of our Stay-at-Home Mission effort, which has been taking place all week.

Prayer: Lord, give me the grace to risk comfort and convenience to help someone in need in your name. Amen.

"My Father is glorified by this, that you bear much fruit and become my disciples." (John 15:8)

Grace and Peace,

Pastor David

May 18, 2017