Russell's Ritings....

Many years ago there was a young lighthouse keeper in New England who married. The couple first had a nice cottage on the mainland where life was good. Then they were transferred to an island where they were the only persons living. The young bride was quite discouraged and at first did not pack her bags. Finally she settled in. He caught a cold which turned into pneumonia. The weekly boat took him back to the mainland for treatment.

Two weeks later boat came back bearing the news that the young husband had died. The last word he had said to his bride was, "Tend the lamp." And she did just that for the next forty years!

We at UMCE are called to tend the lamp of faith in this dark world!

This Sunday the sermon is "Do You Believe Enough?" (John 1:38; Matthew 17:20). I hope to see you here where the folks are friendly!

Blessings,

Russell
