Russell's Rittings....

A man had too much to drink at a party. On his way home he lost his wallet. A policeman found him searching for it under a streetlight. The policeman joined him in the search. Ten minutes passed. They still did not find the wallet. The policeman asked, "Are you sure you lost your wallet under this streetlight?" The man replied, "No, I lost the wallet back there" and pointed to a place in the darkness. The policeman scratched his head and inquired, "Then why are we looking for the wallet here?" The inebriated guy replied, "Because there's more light here."

The revelation of Jesus Christ gives us the light we need to search for meaning and fulfillment. Robert Browning in his poem, "A Death in the Desert" wrote:

"I say, the acknowledgement of God in Christ
Accepted by thy reason, solves for thee
All questions in the earth and out of it,
And has so far advance thee to be wise."

Let's seek and find HIM! I hope to see you Sunday. The sermon is "Three Roads to Discipleship" and the texts are Acts 9:34, Luke 24:32, and Luke 10:30. And the folks are friendly!

From the heart,

Russell
