

Life Groups Are Back

not a fan is here

The Super Bowl is over, but the party is just getting started. What party you ask? Life Groups of course!

I hope you are connected to a Life Group. I'm praying that you are anticipating and ready for God to change lives. I know that the Holy Spirit will meet you during this season. Trust Him to move in you and your group. I'm excited for how Jesus is going to transform you!

Hopefully you picked up a Not A Fan Journal that compliments the Life Group series. I want to encourage you to take time each day with the Lord in your journals because it will help you more deeply connect with the heart of each week and your relationship with Jesus. To effectively use the journal you must watch the DVD. Because the journal is a companion to the Life Group DVD set, you will start using the journal the day after you meet to watch the DVD. There is one entry for each day of the week.

Last but certainly not least, expect the Lord to do big things. Come to every Life Group and weekend gathering with an expectation that God's desire and ability is to transform lives, turning you and others from fans to followers. WellSpringers do a great job at walking along side each other - from brokenness to greater health. That is amazing because "journeying" with people through their growth areas is the way the Lord seems to work most often. But don't forget that God is an instantaneous miracle working God as well. Believe for incarnational moments in your times together that bring about instantaneous freedom, hope, healing and transformation. After all, He has the power to raise the dead. He most definitely has the power to transform our lives and our church in an instant!

Believing for big things,

Pastor Scott
