

MICHAEL REID
— MINISTRIES —

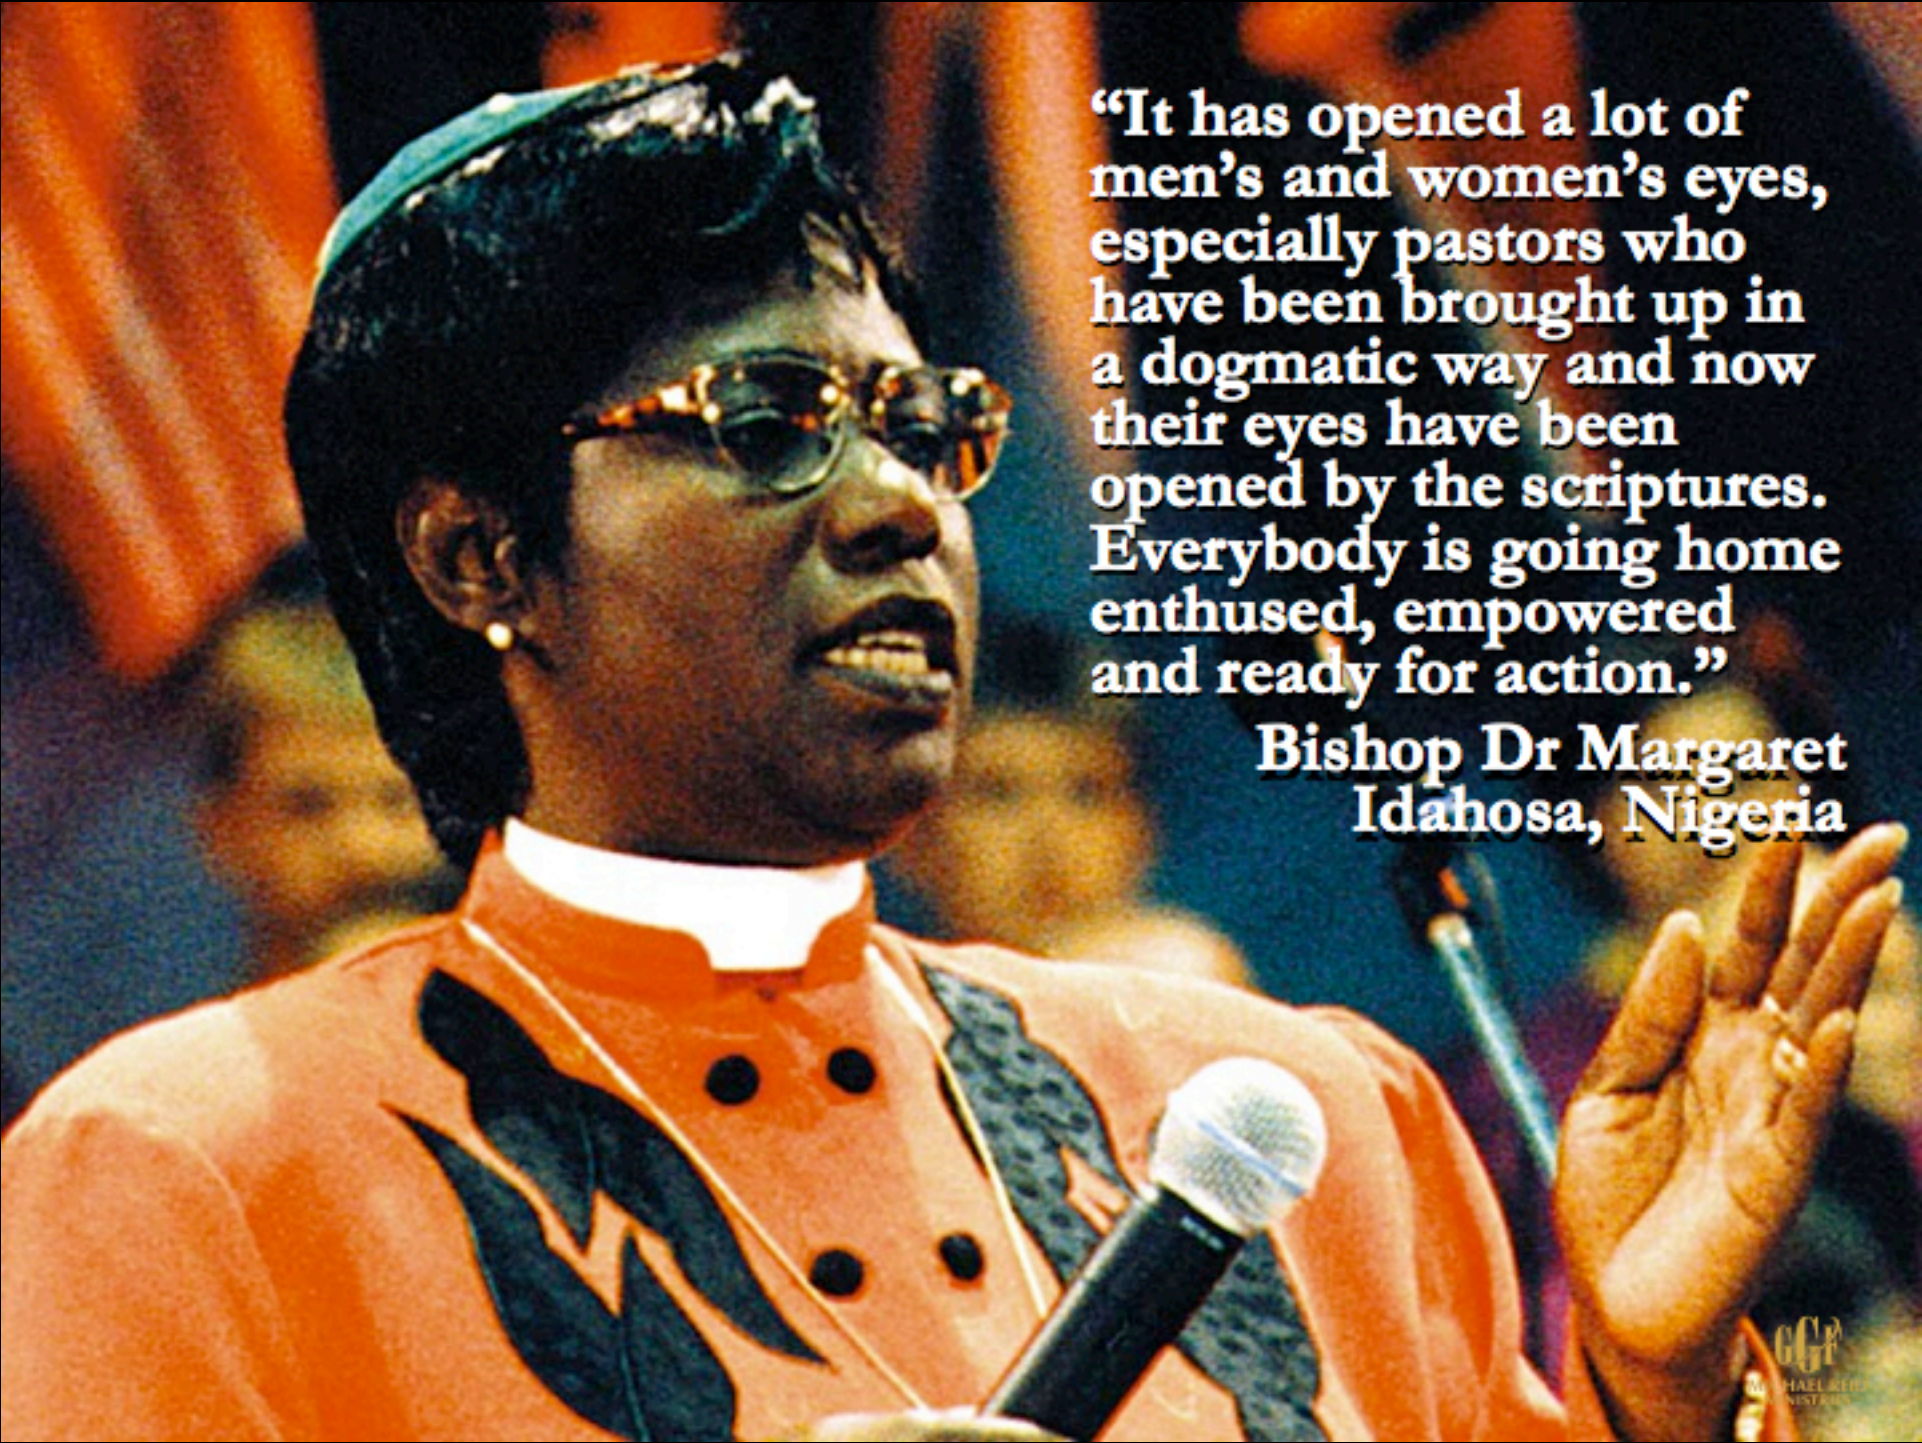

“The Global Gospel Fellowship is a powerful force. Our strength is in ‘faith which worketh by love.’ (Gal 5:6)

We stand on a rock – linked in a Christian family unbroken by distance or political boundaries.”

Bishop Michael Reid, UK

The GGF Mission Statement

The Global Gospel Fellowship reaches out to every continent and nation to create a forum for leaders of Christian churches and fellowships to share teaching and ongoing education, to receive the wisdom of fathers in the faith, to obtain encouragement from fellow ministers and to fulfil the challenge of spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all people throughout the world.

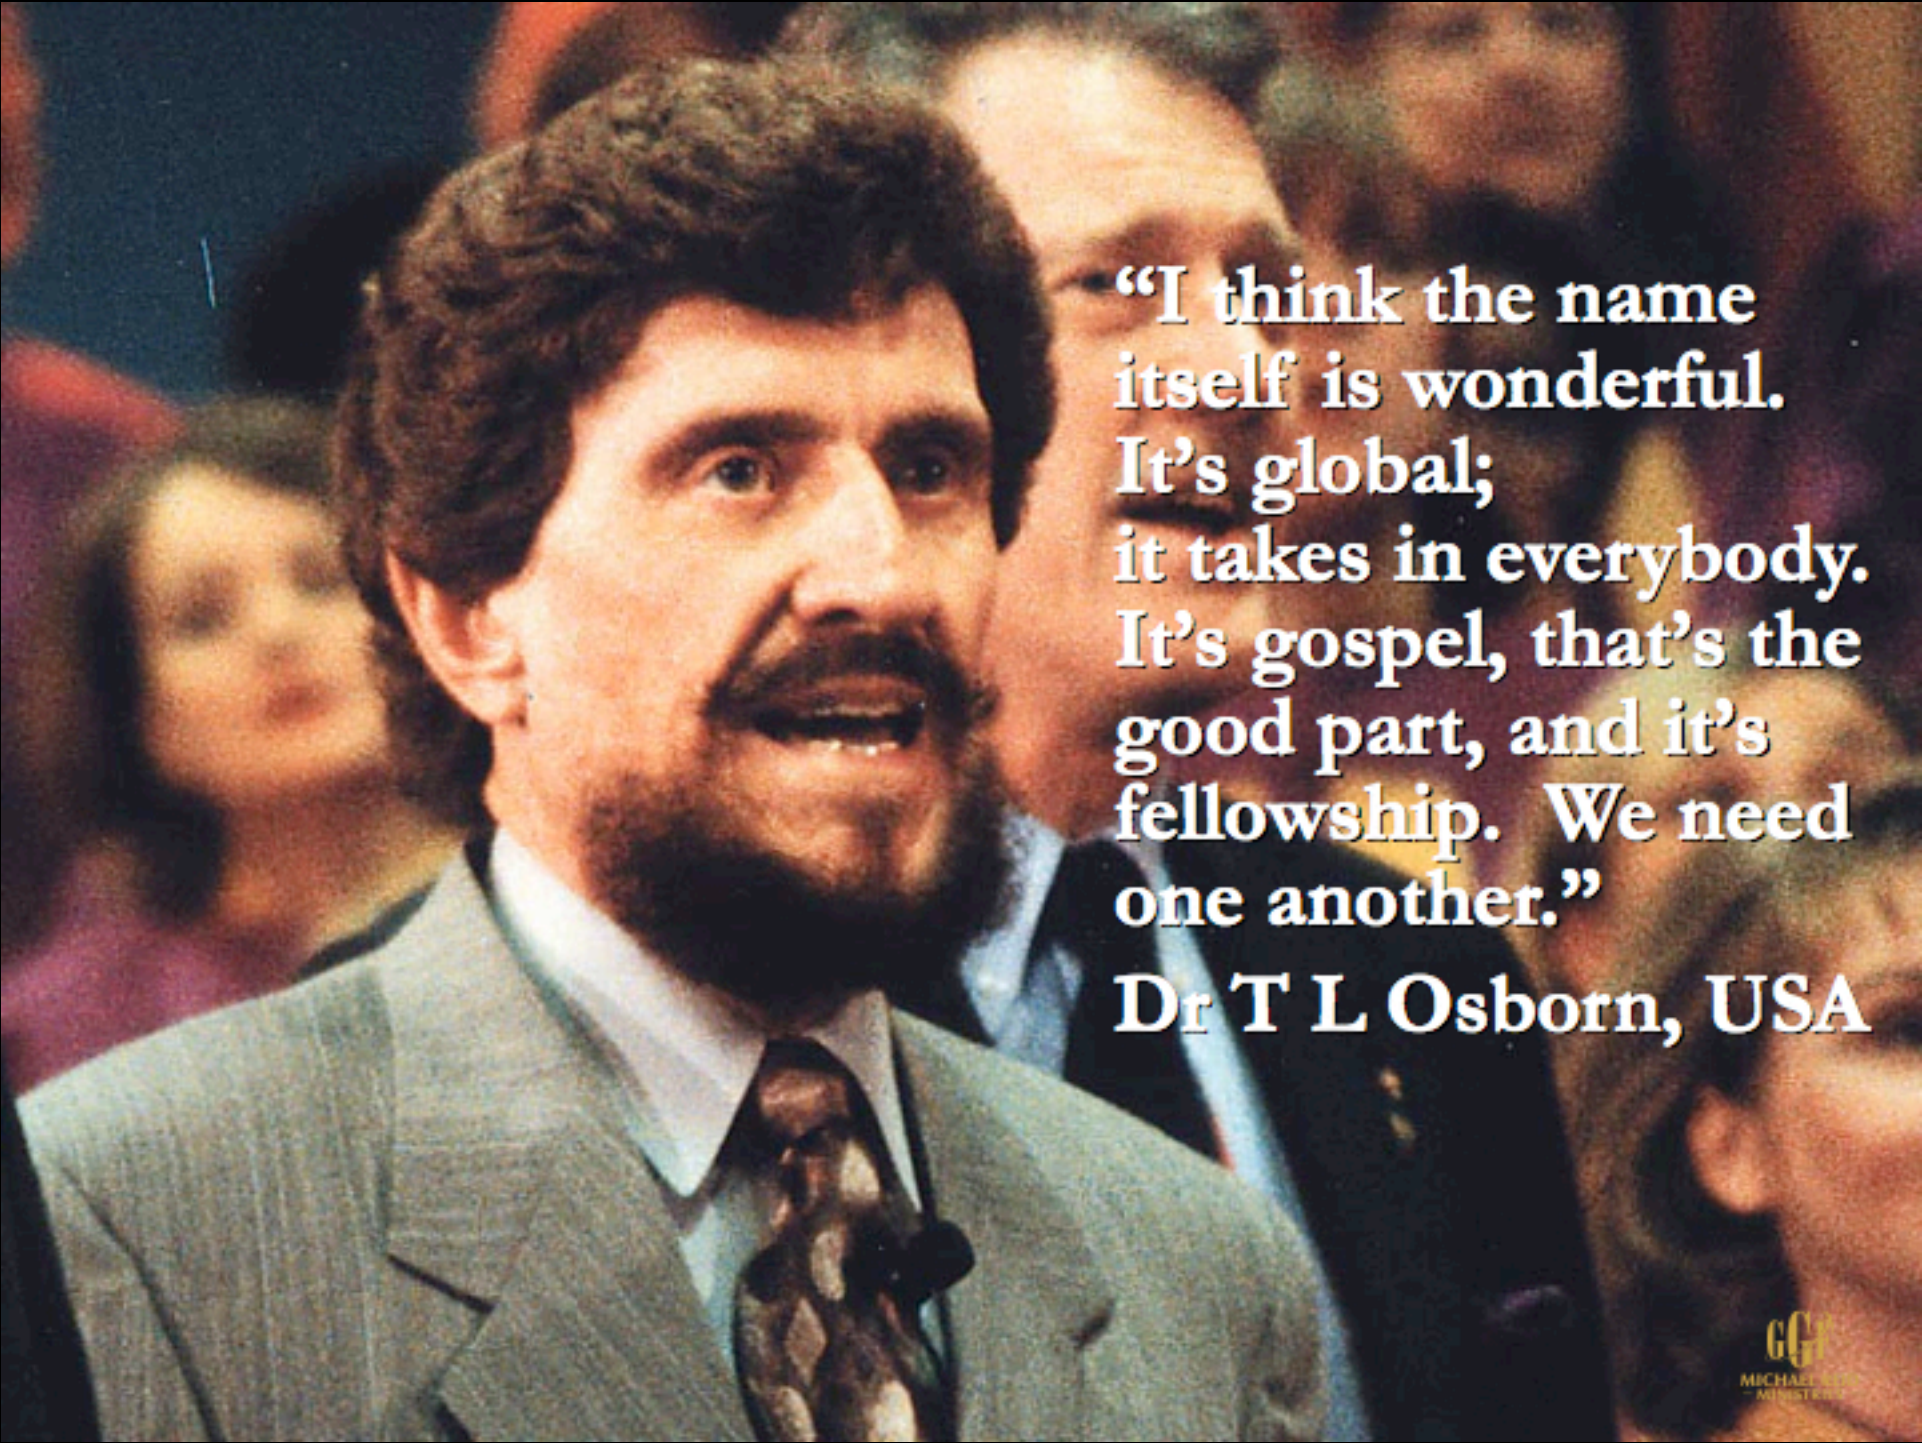

A photograph of Bishop Dr Margaret Idahosa, a woman with short dark hair, wearing glasses and a blue clerical collar with a white episcopal cross. She is speaking into a microphone and gesturing with her right hand. The background is blurred with warm, orange-toned lights.

“It has opened a lot of men’s and women’s eyes, especially pastors who have been brought up in a dogmatic way and now their eyes have been opened by the scriptures. Everybody is going home enthused, empowered and ready for action.”

It’s gospel, that’s the good part, and it’s fellowship. We need
one another.”

Dr T L Osborn, USA

The GGF Mission Statement

The aim of the GGF is to promote fellowship amongst pastors the world over, to nurture miraculous evangelical and missionary enterprises and provide spiritual and practical help to Christians globally.

“It’s wonderful here
at GGF. I believe that if it wasn’t for GGF, ministers like
me from Africa
would not have had the chance of
hearing Dr TL
Osborn in person. I think that what Bishop Reid is doing here is a real investment into the lives of ministers. I believe we are most privileged.”
Bishop Kayanja,
Uganda
