Note from a shepherd

On Sunday morning a few weeks ago a couple visited Woodward Park on their way to Southern California. They live in North Dakota and had heard there was a large congregation in Fresno, California that was true to God's word, active in outreach to the community and very involved in mission works in several different countries.

They wanted to come and see for themselves. He walked around the building during the assembly and class periods. He saw Laotians and Cambodians worshipping in their own language. He cracked the door of the High School class that was packed full and listened to what was being taught. He observed through classroom windows rooms full of people studying God's word. He was impressed that we were concerned for our deaf members and provided an opportunity for them to learn.

Following the assembly he saw our bus and other vehicles loaded with people from other areas of our city. There were two things that impressed them the most: the beautiful singing and the quality of the sermon that day. They remarked it had been a great day for them and they left encouraged.

We need always to remember how blessed we are to be in the Woodward Park church family, where so many are committed to serving and worshipping God and making the gospel of Jesus available to all who will listen.
